The Procession to the Gold Camp in the Superstition Mountains Still Continues.

John C. Coleman is quite ill with a cold of grip.

Dr. Tuffel went down to the capital yesterday on business.

Mr. Vernon returned from a business trip to the capital yesterday.

H. C. Rogers of Lehi, paid Mesa a business trip yesterday morning.

Sheriff J. K. Murphy was in the city yesterday, after some witnesses.

Mr. Bennet of the California Nursery Co., is in Mesa in the interest of that company.

Mr. Geo. Ellsworth went to Tempe yesterday, for a load of goods for the Mesa Co. Op.

Mr. Leo Goldman came up from Phoenix yesterday, and paid Mesa a pleasant visit.

W. S. Johnston, of the Ryder Lumber Co., Tempe, paid Mesa a pleasant visit yesterday.

Dr. Wilbur captured a large Gila monster this morning which he intends to send to some of his friends in Iowa.

Mr. J. Pine drove in from his ranch six miles southeast of Mesa, yesterday, to report the grain looking first rate in this section.

M. J. Forster and J. Cuber drove down to Phoenix this morning in the interest of their new furniture and second-hand store.

Mr. Brown, of the firm of Pierce &amp; Brown, of Salt Lake City, is in Mesa in the interest of that firm, which is desirous of monopolizing the sale of school fixtures in the territory.

Y. G. Guthrie's shooting gallery is now open and is fitted up in quite elegant style. He has a fine lot of the best and best target guns. Mesa's sporting sports can now test their skill.

Yellowlegs, the horse that is to run Saturday with John Crowder for $100, had his stifle thrown out last evening, but Mr. Hockett and his men think he will come around in time to win the race.

Mr. Hall passed through here yesterday from Phoenix, where he had been on business, on his way to his mines in the Superstition mountains. He says the mine is looking better all the time and thinks he has a bonanza.

W. C. I. Robson, our new postmaster, received his commission last night. He telegraphed this morning to his relatives and other necessities of his office. The office will be removed to the building on the south side, opposite the Pomeroy block.

W. W. Woy, T. E. Pomeroy and others will attend the silver convention at Tempe today. Mr. Woy is one of the messengers advocates and helped to send Colorado into line last fall in a way that will tell on the future politics of the west and south.

Present writing evidence points to the fact that the new find at the base of the Superstition mountains; and should the present encouraging indications continue the readers of THE ARIZONA may expect to be treated to a history of a second Leadville before the leaves fall next Autumn. The city has a population of forty-five and in a few days will be supplied with a provision store. To take a look at the Merrill mine makes one feel wonderful. The town site will be completed this week and quite a number of the lots will be taken. The name of the city will be agreed upon at a meeting of its citizens to be called on the second of June. Owing to the peculiar condition of the surface of the ground where the rich pinnings of lead, no one knows to a certainty whether the mineral will be found in mass deposits. The valley in which these veins or deposits are found is intersected with hills of lesser or greater prominence and on the apex of each a mass of granite, porphyry and other project without any reference to any special direction. The Merrill mine looks much like a chimney or flue as the miners call them.

Crouse &amp; Hough of Mesa City, have organized a company for the purpose of buying and shipping green fruits, nuts, etc. All those having any of the above named articles for sale, should call and see or write to Crouse &amp; Hough, Mesa City, Arizona.

A GARDEN SPOT.

Inducements Offered By the South Side to Homeseekers.

The Consolidated is the largest of the great canals of the south side. The system now consists of 40 miles of main canal; 75 miles of main laterals and 150 miles of smaller laterals so distributed that 100,000 acres of land may be irrigated.

Besides this great system the following canals with underlying territory must be considered: The Highland canal, 20 miles, 15,000 acres; the Mesa canal, 10 miles, 20,000 acres; the Utah, 10 miles, 20,000 acres; the Tempe, 15 miles, 30,000.

The entire region about Mesa derives its life from these systems which are also contributory in the highest degree to the agricultural prosperity of the country around Tempe.

There is a rapidly spreading belief that that part of the valley in which these two flourishing towns are located is the garden spot of Arizona and developments justify the growing belief.

It is not improper in this connection to describe briefly the grounds upon which this belief is based and the natural reasons why it is so.

The country about Mesa will probably within the next ten years enjoy the widely circulated distinction of being the most productive fruit-growing region in the United States as it is now known to be the chief fruit belt of the valley.

It differs sufficiently in altitude from the rest of the valley to insure semi-tropical fruits against danger from frost always imminent in the most favored regions of California.

The altitude is 81.6 feet higher than Tempe and 172 feet above Phoenix, rendering it somewhat cooler than either place in summer and slightly warmer in winter.

Vineyards dot the country in every direction and hundreds of broad acres are set to oranges, almonds, dates, etc. Mesa City, the center of this lovely region, is an ideal village of 1200 people, situated 6.8 miles east of Tempe and about 17 miles from Phoenix.

The business and commercial interests include one bank, seven general merchandise stores, one hardware store, two blacksmith shops, one lumber yard and two saloons.

The buildings are of a good character and become more pretentious yearly. As might be expected in such a community there are excellent church and school facilities and the town is sufficiently metropolitan to support a small opera house.

Communication is maintained with the neighboring cities of Tempe and Phoenix by means of two daily stages.

Three miles east of Mesa City is the prosperous village of Lehi, among whose other industries and features is a creamery, the best in Arizona and known throughout the territory.

The mesa proper extends to the river, four miles north of Mesa City; on the south it is almost limitless, a stretch of country which within ten years will be known as the Garden Spot of America.
